

Safety

The area of safety needs special focus and our ambition is to strive for zero accidents within our company.

High standards within safety are what we also want to be known for.

It represents a direct link both to our strategy, our value proposition to our customers and our company values.

Safety is a collective responsibility so we must engage at all levels on this issue in order to improve and never lose focus on this important topic.

