

Our aspirations – the vision

“From nature to ingredients®” defines our vision.

We transform nature’s plants into useful ingredients and efficient solutions thereby touching upon millions of people’s daily lives across the globe.

Based on our fermentation technology with non-genetically modified microorganisms we use renewable raw materials to produce biodegradable ingredients of natural origin.

Our products enable our customers to produce and market healthier, safer, more sustainable and/or tastier products to consumers or industries globally.
